

The Hilarious Sitcom That's a Touchdown With Fans!

Synopsis:

Team up with Craig T. Nelson in his Primetime Emmy® Award-winning role as Hayden Fox, the curmudgeonly coach of Minnesota State University's Screaming Eagles football team, as he tries to navigate his way through the sports world, fatherhood and family life without dropping the ball.

Coach Hayden Fox revolves his life around leading a university football team- and although his passion for the game is incredible, this passion can only go so far. Tensions rise on the home front with a partner that doesn't share the same love for the game, thus leaving Hayden to escape his "dumb jock" stereotype and present a caring, loving side for his friends and family, and most importantly, his "little girl."

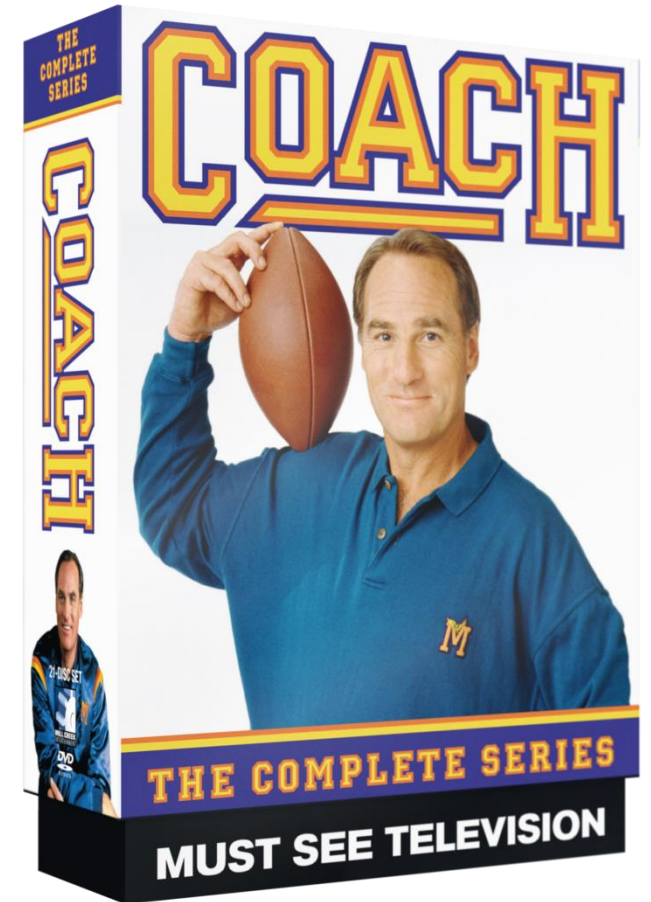

All 200 episodes across 9 high-rated seasons are available in their entirety for the first time ever, so there's no time like the present to get in the game for one of the most entertaining series ever!
