“OFFERS A VIVID INSIGHT INTO THE EXPERIENCES OF THOSE WHO FOUND THEMSELVES PART OF A WAR THEY DID NOT UNDERSTAND.”

— The Sunday Times

These quietly courageous men speak with stoicism in the face of unimaginable horror that is both humbling and inspiring. The contrast between the youthful optimism of volunteers and the unprecedented slaughter to come provides a deeply personal view of the British experience of the most traumatic war in human history.

EPISODE ONE - THE CALL TO ARMS
The declaration of war was greeted with a wave of patriotic euphoria as the British Expeditionary Force left for Belgium and 2 million men volunteered.

EPISODE TWO - THE BATTLE OF THE SOMME
In the summer of 1916 high hopes of a breakthrough that would end the war only ended in stalemate and tragedy.

EPISODE THREE - SAVING THE WOUNDED
The story of the human carnage that followed every battle and the struggle to save lives. We hear from nurses - and from men who were gassed, the shell shocked and the amputees who always remembered who saved them.

EPISODE FOUR - HORROR IN THE MUD
The story of 1917 and the terrible battle of Passchendaele. Many drowned in mud in battles that remains synonymous with the horror of mechanized warfare.

EPISODE FIVE - THE HOME FRONT
The suffering of families at home in Britain. With the arrival of the dreaded telegram announcing the death of a loved one, family life changed forever.

EPISODE SIX - THE BOYS OF 1918
In spring 1918 thousands of young British conscripts were sent to France to make up the numbers. Many were taken prisoner. But by the summer the tide began to turn and the boys of 1918 helped turn defeat into victory.

• Aired on the History Channel UK, 2008
